- Three others severely injured
- Tragedy occurs at 4.30 am

Raghu Mahadevamma Basamma

Mysuru, Aug. 5 (RK&BCT)- Three persons including two women were killed when a speeding goods auto collided against a parked truck on the Mysuru-T.Narasipur Road in the wee hours of today. While one woman died on the spot, the other woman and the man died at the K.R. Hospital.

The impact of the accident was such that the front portion of the auto was smashed and ripped apart. The mangled remains of the seats and crumpled front portion of the vehicle were smeared in blood.

Three persons, including the driver of the auto were injured and the condition of one woman is said to be critical.

According to the Police and eyewitnesses, the TATA Ace Super goods auto (KA-55-6470) started from T.Narasipur at around 4 am and due to mist, the driver did not see the truck (TN-36-V-7899) parked by the side of the road at Kempaiahnahundi Gate. The people in the auto were coming to Mysuru to buy vegetables and return to T. Narasipur to sell them.

The victims have been identified as Mahadevamma (60), wife of Narasimha Nayaka, Basamma (60), wife of Basava Nayaka, both residents of Srirampura in T.Narasipur and Raghu (25), son of Basavaraju and a resident of Kyathamaranahalli. While Mahadevamma was killed on the spot, Basamma and Raghu died at the K.R. Hospital.

Goods auto driver Somashekar and two more occupants of the auto Radhakrishna and Rathnamma have been grievously injured. Rathnamma's condition is said to be critical. Police and eyewitnesses said that it was a daily routine of the victims to come to Bandipalya Market in Mysuru and buy vegetables. At the break of dawn, they would return to T.Narasipur and sell the vegetables and earn a livelihood.

Today, the victims had occupied the front seat as it was cold. T.Narasipur Circle Inspector Manoj Kumar and Sub-inspector Anand visited the spot and have seized the truck and the autorickshaw.

Burglars strike at 5 shops in Shivarampet

A Police officer at one of the shops that was burgled at Shivarampet.

Mysuru, Aug. 5 (RK&BCT)- Barely a fortnight after criminals committed serial burglaries by breaking the sheet on the terrace of two shops on Ashoka Road, five shops were burgled last night in the busy Mannar's Market at Shivarampet that comes under Devaraja Police limits.

Here too, burglars adopted the same modus operandi where they broke the sheet on the terrace and entered the shopping complex. They landed at the shops after entering a lift and sliding through the iron railings.

It may be recalled here that on July 19, burglars struck two shops on Ashoka Road and over Rs. 2.08 lakh cash was stolen.

In yesterday's burglary cases, the three-storey building adjacent to the Mannar's Market was targeted where they took only cash and left the main doors intact.

Small is beautiful

Industrial revolution dating back to more than two centuries is attributed to aggressive new class of manufacturers employing machines and other practices threatening the survival of skilled artisans and their time-honoured trades. History provides a large number of instances of machine-based, instead of man-based, industries and their promoters degrading the dignity of the traditional trades as well as enterprises. Mysureans currently in their eighties would have witnessed many such instances during their decades of life-time. The factory system emerging with setting up of power-looms turned the skilled workforce to mere factory hands resulting in their life that was far from idyllic. The community of such workers driven to a dire situation of poverty and penury resisted unsuccessfully during the beginning of 19th century the march of technology-supported industries. What has happened subsequently is the romanticised saga of industrial progress all over the world, including India.

Thanks to the human innovative spirit, while technology has caused massive job losses marked by trauma over several decades since the time of industrial revolution, new work has always cropped up to provide new avenues for earning adequate income to both the investors and the labour force. The challenge is to address the limitless needs of human populations with new skills and technology.

In the wake of steadily shrinking headcount of the workforce engaged in agriculture on which nearly 70 per cent of rural households depend, in order to keep the tempo of finding employment to the growing mass of people, one has to look to three other major sectors namely, industry, trade and service, all of which together account for 85 per cent of the nation's gross domestic product. Taking the first sector, industry, comprising more than 40 million registered Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises (MSMEs) and contributing 45 per cent to manufacturing sector, apart from providing employment to more than 80 million youth holds the greatest scope for keeping the population-jobs balance in equilibrium state.

The country's manufacturing sector as dominated by large scale industries is guzzling areas of fertile land, polluting air through emissions, ruining rivers by letting effluents, generating residues in unmanageable proportions, offsetting all the economic benefits it is providing. In sum, MSMEs, according to knowledgeable circles, can obviate all these negatives of large industries.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

All of us who belong to aam janta often wonder if our netas belong to a species other than ours. How else to explain their general demeanour and behaviour, before and after elections? Before elections our netas and would-be netas are role models who've stepped out of Dale Carnegie's best-selling PR bible, How To Win Friends and Influence People. They go around beaming smiles at everyone like toothpaste advertisements. They promise us that, if elected, they'll give us not just the sun and the moon but the entire zodiac as well. They swear solemnly that in all their dealings they'll be as transparent as a goldfish bowl, as accountable as an open book. Once elected, they're transformed into totally unrecognisable beings. They suffer a collective amnesia about their pre-poll promises about giving us goodies. All the goodies available are reserved strictly for themselves, and their families and friends. They shroud themselves and their doings in impenetrable secrecy, their lack of accountability equalled only by their arrogance. What causes this metamorphosis? A magical potion called power.

Coloured bull's eyes for pigeon

Brazil: The Nossa Senhora da Consolação church, in downtown Sao Paolo, Brazil, used to have a serious pigeon problem. The pesky birds would fly through the place during sermons, poop on the benches and leave feathers everywhere, but ever since they had these coloured circle panels installed in the windows and doorways, no pigeon gets close anymore.

Regular parishioners at Nossa Senhora da Consolação describe the pigeon situation as a "real hell." Dozens of birds had made the place of worship their home, flying in and out whenever they pleased, making a lot noise during mass and dropping stones and bits of plaster on people. What they did was install a series of plastic panels with coloured bullseyes painted on them, in every doorway and window of the church. The concentric design apparently makes pigeons dizzy and nauseous, causing them to turn away. Over time, they just learn to avoid the place completely. Believe it or not, the coloured panels did the trick.

Real-Life Richie Rich

Dubai: Rubbing shoulders with celebrities, gaining hundreds of thousands of followers of social media, collecting more pairs of rare sneakers that he could ever wear or starting his own fashion labels are just some of the things Rashed Belhasa is famous for. And, at age 15, he's just getting started.

The youngest son of Dubai business tycoon Saif Ahmed Belhasa, Rashed has pretty much everything you dreamed of having growing up, and a whole lot more. He's more than willing to show off his glamorous life online, too. And this 15-year-old's life is actually crazier than you could ever imagine. For starters, he lives in a lavish mansion, surrounded by a private zoo featuring rare exotic animals like lions, ligers, chimpanzees, cheetahs or panthers. How can a 15-year-old kid afford 200,000 pairs of sneakers. Well, he receives a "small" monthly allowance from his parents, but he also invests most of what he earns from online ads and promotion deals into his passion. Actually, it's more of a business, or so Rashed claims.

Stop vandalising Krishnaraja Boulevard

Sir,

As mentioned by me in my earlier letters too, the Krishnaraja Boulevard is one of the finest stretches in the city. This near 600 m stretch is adorned by many heritage structures, including the Law Courts and the Zilla Panchayat, on its sides.

With wide footpaths on both the sides and hosting a beautiful row of trees on its wide median, the stretch used to present a majestic look.

Unfortunately, of late, this stretch has been facing threats of destruction. The footpaths and the median have been often narrowed down and parts of its footpaths (which used to go green during the rainy season) have been unmindfully concreted and tiled.

It is noticed that work towards paving the median — which had earlier been beautifully turfed with grass for a few years — is underway; unduly huge kerbstones have been placed and huge amounts of gravel have been dumped all along.

It can only be expected that the median will be concreted and paved with coloured tiles shortly, giving the road an awkward look and preventing totally the ground water recharge that used take place during rains, leading to a gradual death of the trees around.

I request the authorities to stop vandalising of such beautiful roads and abandon all activities of development on this heritage stretch.

Mother commits suicide along with daughters; Younger one survives

Alcoholic husband, mounting loans drive woman to take the extreme step

T. Narasipur, Aug. 5 (SK&BCT)- Unable to repay loans borrowed to support her family, a mother and two daughters entered into a suicide pact on Thursday and consumed pesticide tablets. While the mother and elder daughter died, the younger daughter escaped from the jaws of death.

The victims have been identified as Asha (30), a resident of Vatalpura near T. Narasipur and the wife of Nanjundegowda and her daughter Aishwarya (9). Aishwarya's sister 6-year-old Deepika survived and she is now being treated at a hospital.

According to the Police and family members, Nanjundegowda was working as a cleaner of a private bus and he was an alcoholic. To make matters worse, he was not even going for his work since many months. Asha and Nanjundegowda had married 13 years ago and she was trying to meet ends with her drunkard husband.

Having no other choice, Asha had borrowed loans from Women's Self-Help Group and she was unable to repay the loan as there was no income flowing to the house.

She had to support her two daughters. Though many times she tried to convince her husband, he was not ready to forgo his drinking habit.

As she was enquired about the pending loans, fearing embarrassment and insult, Asha decided to commit suicide along with her children. On Thursday, she came to T. Narasipur along with her children and purchased pesticide tablets. She consumed it and also made her daughters consume the same.

They later went to Mudukuthore Temple. Severely exhausted after consuming pesticide tablets, Asha collapsed as she was getting down from the bus at Mudukuthore while her daughters fell on the ground, gasping for breath and writhing in pain. Seeing this, public and a few passengers rushed them to a nearby Government Hospital.

While Asha was declared brought dead, Aishwarya died a little later. Deepika is now undergoing treatment. Talakadu Police have registered a case.

Man kills wife, buries her

Chamarajanagar, Aug.5 (SS)- The Town Police have been successful in nabbing a man, who had committed the dastardly crime of killing his wife and burying her clandestinely.

Abdul Asif, a resident of Galipura Extension here, is the person arrested. He has allegedly murdered his wife, the unfortunate Baby Ayesha (35).

Asif had married Ayesha from Mysuru about 12 years ago. The couple has three children. On July 31, there was an altercation between the husband and wife. Asif has attacked Ayesha and as a result, she has died. Asif had kept this a secret and on August 1, buried her in a hurry in the community's burial ground.

Ayesha's relatives became suspicious of her death. They met the Superintendent of Police Dharmendra Kumar and gave a written complaint about the killing of Ayesha. The SP viewed the complaint seriously and directed the Town Police to investigate the crime.

The Police managed to get slight evidence about the killing of Baby Ayesha and her quiet burial. Later, when Asif was subjected to intense interrogation, he confessed to the crime, said Town Police Sub-Inspector Mahadevaiah.

Under the supervision of Kollegal Assistant Commissioner Roopa, the body was exhumed on Thursday and post-mortem conducted. The accused Abdul Asif was arrested and produced before the Court, said Mahadevaiah.

Badal wakes up Mysuru City Corporation!

The Mysuru City Corporation has started repairing the pothole that was an eyesore on First Main, Paramahamsa Road in Yadavagiri coming under Ward No. 30 (not Ward 34 as inadvertently mentioned in Star of Mysore yesterday). The deep pothole was collecting water and was a dangerous spot. Artist Badal Nanjundaswamy, who is known for drawing the attention of people and apathetic civic authorities through his street-art, had painted a huge dengue mosquito at this spot with the pothole opening up as the deadly mouth of the mosquito. The art, which was published in Star of Mysore, was also shared widely in the social media. MCC workers have now dug up the road to repair the pothole and provide an outlet for the water to flow into the roadside drain.

Private security at Mysore Palace from Aug. 10

DC Randeep's decision to tackle hawker menace as Police fail to respond to his letters

D. Randeep

Mysuru, Aug.5- Despite several reminders to the City Police to tackle the menace of hawkers and roadside vendors outside the Varaha Gate of the Mysore Palace falling on deaf ears, the Mysore Palace Board has taken a decision to strengthen the security inside the Amba Vilas Palace on its own by setting up a private security system.

Deputy Commissioner D. Randeep, who is also the Palace Board Chief Executive Officer, has taken this decision in the interest of security to the world famous Palace and thousands of tourists including foreigners visiting it. Initially, 30 private security personnel will be posted at the Gates from August 10.

In the first stage these security personnel will be posted at the Varaha Gate and in the parking area outside the Palace. Two counters are being opened at the Palace Board Administrative Office inside the Palace for their convenience.

The hawkers selling various handicraft items, Mysuru, is known for, are creating a nuisance and also harassing the tourists. Randeep had written a letter in this regard to the City Police Commissioner, adding that, this is also marring the beauty of the Palace and directed him to put a stop to the menace.

When the Palace Board Deputy Director T.S. Subramanya made an enquiry about this, it was found that a few of the hawkers had identity cards that had the stamp of Mysuru City Corporation (MCC) and it was issued by one Manju after collecting a fee. This issue was also mentioned in the letter to the Police Commissioner asking him to take action against Manju.

The Devaraja Police and the Garuda Patrol, instead of taking suitable action, had washed their hands off stating that action could not be taken against the hawkers with identity cards. This action of the Police is a cause for concern, the DC has stated in the letter.

However, the MCC Commissioner, based on the letter to the Police Commissioner, investigated the matter and recovered the identity cards. In spite of all the exercise, the roadside vendors and hawkers continue to occupy the place outside the Palace Gate and near the parking lot causing inconvenience to the tourists. They are also fleecing them.

The DC, viewing the Police negligence into the matter seriously, has taken a decision to set up a separate private internal security wing leading to suspicions about the workings of the Police.

Subramanya

"In the interest of the security to the Palace and protection to the tourists, DC Randeep who is also the Chief Executive Officer of the Palace Board has taken a decision to set up a private security wing," said Deputy Director T.S. Subramanya.

Raids, Resorts and Saffron Reign

On July 29 last Saturday at 4 am, 44 Gujarat MLAs were escorted into Eagleton Golf Resort on Mysuru-Bengaluru Highway by D.K. Suresh as per the instructions of his powerful brother, Power Minister Doddalahalli Kempegowda Shivakumar, popularly known as DKS.

DKS, like former Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy, is well-versed in moving people and keeping them together. It started way back in 2002 when he managed to keep 40 Congress Legislators from Maharashtra safe in Golden Palm Resort.

But for a long time now Karnataka has not only become a popular IT hub, but also a popular hide-out hub! And like IT, its hide-out reputation has also grown. In 1983, Ramakrishna Hegde who led the Janata Party in Karnataka fearing a threat to topple his government by Indira Gandhi, had hid his MLAs!

This herding of MLAs to a secret location to save one's government was noticed by many political leaders. Soon our neighbouring State's then CM N.T. Rama Rao, when his government was under threat, sent his MLAs to Bengaluru for "safe-keeping." Interestingly, when N.T. Rama Rao did this, one of the leaders advising him was the former BJP leader and now soon-to-be Vice-President M. Venkaiah Naidu!

But the art of resort politics was fine-tuned in Karnataka between 2004-2008. In 2004, after our State had a hung house, JD(S) became the king-maker. Knowing well that offers would flood from both parties to their MLAs, the JD(S) quickly moved all their MLAs to a resort on the outskirts of Bengaluru while the JD(S) bosses negotiated.

Two years later in 2006, JD(S) was ready for another round of 'trading' with BJP. This time JD(S) MLAs were moved to Goa. In 2008, it was BJP's turn to hide a few defecting MLAs from the Opposition when BJP with 110 seats were three short of a majority!

Recently, even in the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) election, Corporators from JD(S) were herded into resorts till the polls for Mayor and Deputy Mayor posts were held. No wonder one JD(S) leader boasted to Economic Times newspaper saying, "We set the trend and now resort politics has become the norm." Wah! Is that an achievement to be proud of ? Yes, our State leaders instead of being embarrassed for starting the trend of resort politics are proud that they are the pioneers! This is the typical mindset in our country where such acts are seen as being "clever" or "Chanakyatana" instead of being seen as unethical.

Let's not forget the BJP did the same when they had herded Rajasthan BJP MLAs to a resort in Jaipur in June 2016, ahead of the Rajya Sabha elections. Of course, BJP is smart with excuses. The party said it was taking the MLAs for a "technical workshop" on how to vote! We didn't know putting a tick mark was such a "technical" problem. Again this excuse is seen as a "clever" one when in fact it's a dishonest one. Again we only care about the end, means does not matter. By hook or by crook…win.

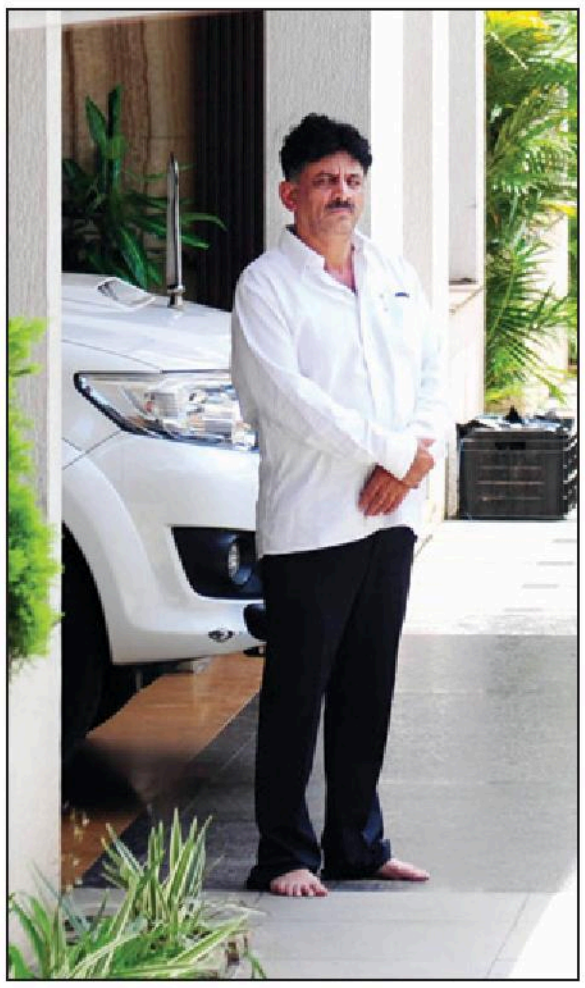
And win BJP wants to, and win the Rajya Sabha is what they want to. As this is the only place where the Opposition outnumbers the government, which is a cog in decision-making.

But they are on their way to fixing that problem. After all, Samajwadi Party is in tatters, regional parties in the South are in turmoil ripe to be picked apart like in Tamil Nadu, CPI(M) is having their own issues as Sitaram Yechury is being denied a third term…

Mayawati has resigned, Lalu is gone, Nitish Kumar has been rewarded. And the Congress well… all they have in terms of a big and rich State is Karnataka. Now, BJP, by raiding DKS, has stepped closer to its hope of a saffron reign.

First let's not forget DKS was given credit for managing the Nanjangud and Gundlupet by-elections and winning both the seats for the Congress with his M&M skills — Money and Muscle.

DKS was expected to deploy the same delivery model during the State election in 2018. But with the BJP in Karnataka in a constant state of turmoil with Yeddy and Eshwarappa at loggerheads, the only way BJP can win is if they can make Congress weak… and with DKS' raid they just did that.



Now DKS is going to be tied up in legal cases with ED and with that he is useless to Congress in 2018 election, as they say in Kannada "Aatakke unto lekkake elle" (He may be in the game but his contribution will be insignificant). And without DKS, Congress has no Money, no Muscle, no Win.

For now, BJP or to be correct … I-T Department with its raids has made some people happy, especially old Bengalureans because they feel DKS was responsible for the ruin of Bengaluru. After all, it was he who was the Urban Development Minister between 1999-2004 when the IT boom happened. While he became the second richest politician in India, Bengaluru became one of the worst cities to live in India.

DKS may be a powerful politician but he has met his match in a Party that today not only has Muscle and Money but 'Chankayatana' and ruthlessness that Congress is unable to fathom.

Museums of Mysuru

The Heritage City of Mysore may as well be called a City of Museums, thanks to the sheer number of museums in the city. Some of the historical buildings that were constructed during the Wadiyar rule have now been converted into museums including Jayalakshmi Vilas Mansion (folklore museum), Karanji Mansion (Postal Museum), Jaganmohan Palace (Jayachamarajendra Art Gallery) and Indira Gandhi Rashtriya Manav Sangrahalay. This apart, there are many other museums including Regional Museum of Natural History, Mysore Palace Residential Museum and the Rail Museum.

This Weekend Star Supplement takes our readers on a tour of these museums which have become an integral of our city's culture and history.

FOLKLORE MUSEUM AT MANASAGANGOTHRI

STAR OF MYSORE Saturday 5th August 2017 Weekend STAR Supplement Page-11

Museums to awe tourists this Dasara...

FOLKLORE MUSEUM (JAYALAKSHMI VILAS MANSION)

By S.N. Venkatnag Sobers

Jayalakshmi Vilas Mansion is located in the green surroundings of Manasagangothri, the PG campus of University of Mysore. It is a museum of priceless collections of artefacts.

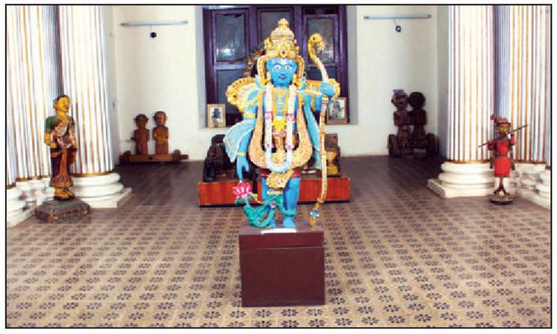
The mansion was built in 1905, during the period of Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar for Princess Jayalakshmi Ammani, the eldest daughter of the Maharaja Chamaraja Wadiyar. It was originally called 'the First Rajkumari Mansion'. The first princess Jayalakshmi, was married to Sirdar M. Kantharaj Urs in 1897, who later became the Dewan of Mysore. The mansion was acquired by University of Mysore to establish a postgraduate centre in its campus known as Manasagangothri. The building was in a state of neglect for a very long time and it was restored at a cost of Rs. 1.17 crores a few years back.

The mansion has 125 rooms, 300 windows, 287 exquisitely carved doors and it was spread across 6 acres. The Jayalakshmi Vilas Mansion houses Folklore Museum. It has three museums – a sculpture gallery, folklore gallery and the central part of the mansion, which is a treat to watch. The museum has a collection of artefacts, puppets, dolls, costumes and many which are on display.

The central part of Jayalakshmi Vilas Mansion is a splendid sight to watch. It has two levels of balconies. It is said that the central part of the mansion was used for several ceremonies.

This apart, there is also a dog cemetery – the resting place of pets belonged to Princess Jayalakshmi Ammani.

The museum is open from 10.30 am to 5.30 pm except for Sundays.



INDIRA GANDHI RASHTRIYA MANAV SANGRAHALAY

The Indira Gandhi Rashtriya Manav Sangrahalay (IGRMS) is one of most visited museums in Mysuru. Located on Irwin Road in the heart of the city, the IGRMS is set up in one of the heritage buildings of Mysuru - 'The Wellington Lodge'. It provides platforms to various artists/artisan groups from different parts of India to demonstrate aesthetic beauties of their traditional knowledge systems, creative art forms and craft techniques. The Regional Centre organises periodically exhibitions on various forms of cultural identities, conduct short term training programme for aspiring people on various traditional art forms and techniques and organises varieties of music, dance and theatrical performances of fold, tribal, and classical traditions.

The Wellington Lodge is the oldest structure having been in existence for over 200 years. This building was earlier occupied by the Duke of Wellington, when he was in political charge of Mysore, during the years 1799-1801 A.D., soon after the fall of Tipu Sultan.

The museum is open from 10 am to 6 pm on all days except for Mondays.

Jaganmohan Palace, once the home for Waidyars, the erstwhile rulers of Mysore, has been converted into an art gallery. It also has an auditorium which caters to the need of fine arts lovers in the city. Jaganmohan Palace is on one of the seven palaces in Mysuru. It was constructed in 1861 by Krishnaraja Wadiyar III as an alternate retreat for the Royal Family.

The Mysore Palace, the original home of the Wadiyars, was gutted in a fire accident and construction of a new Palace was started in 1897 and was completed in 1912 till then Jaganmohan Palace is where the Royals lived. In fact, the coronation of Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar was held in this Palace during 1902.

In 1915, Jaganmohan Palace was converted into an art gallery, which was later renamed in 1955 after Jayachamarajendra Wadiyar, as the Sri Jayachamarajendra Art Gallery. Earlier, convocations of the University of Mysore were also held in this Palace. The first session of the Legislative Council of the then Mysore State was held here in July 1907. The Legislative Council was then called as the Representative Council and was presided by the Dewan. It was Jayachamarajendra Wadiyar who converted the Palace into a trust and opened it for public viewing.

Jaganmohan Palace is built in traditional Hindu style and has three stories. In 1900, an external facade with a hall behind it was added to the Palace. This facade has three entrances and the entablature has religious motifs and miniature temples crafted on it. There are mural paintings on the wall which depicts the Dasara scene and the canvas depicting the sequence of the Jumboo Savari. A family tree of the Wadiyars tracing the lineage of the Royal Family is also painted on a wall.

Jayachamarajendra Art Gallery is open from 8.30 am to 5.30 pm everyday.

JAGANMOHAN PALACE

The art gallery contains one of the largest collections of artefacts in South India. Most of these artefacts are paintings, prominent among which are those by Raja Ravi Varma, some of which demonstrate scenes from the Hindu epics, Ramayana and Mahabharatha.

The collection of paintings in the gallery exceed 2,000 in number and these belong to different Indian styles of painting like Mysore, Mughal and Shantiniketan.16 paintings of Raja Ravi Varma were donated to the gallery by Jayachamarajendra Wadiyar. Another important painting displayed here is the 'Lady with the Lamp' painted by the artist Haldenkar and is placed in a dark room where it is the only exhibit. This is to give an illusion that the glow of the lamp is illuminating the face of the woman.

Some other painters whose works are on exhibit include Nikolai Roerich, Svetoslav Roerich and Rabindranath Tagore and Abanindranath Tagore. There are beautiful paintings by the Ukil brothers -Sharada Ukil, Ranada Ukil and Barada Ukil.Another collection of paintings by a British Army Officer named Col. Scot on the wars between Tipu Sultan and the British army are said to be the only visual representation of the wars.

Other exhibits here include weapons of war, musical instruments, sculptures, brassware, antique coins, and currencies. Some other unique artefacts exhibited here is a French clock which has a mechanism in which a parade of miniature soldiers is displayed every hour; beating drums mark the seconds and a bugle marks the minute. Paintings made on a grain of rice which can be viewed only through a magnifier are also displayed here.

A new hall was built in 2003 because there was insufficient space available to exhibit all the paintings.The original paintings of Raja Ravi Varma which are over 100 years old were restored by the Regional Conservation Laboratory (RCL).

POSTAL MUSEUM (KARANJI MANSION)

The Karanji Mansion, which houses the Postal Training Centre and Museum, in Nazarbad, was built by Chamaraja Wadiyar. Karanji Mansion was built for one of his three daughters - Krishnajammanni.

The building constructed in 1902 on an area of 38 acres and was named as Karanji Lake since it is located near the Karanji Lake. The Building was taken over by the Postal Training Institute of the Department of Posts in 1965. The Postal Department not only trains its personnel here it has also set up a museum depicting the Postal history in the country.

First one is in the main Palace building which is maintained by the Mysore Palace Board and other is the Private Residential Museum, which is looked after by the Royal Family. The museum has a display of vintage photographs which portrays the erstwhile Maharajas of Mysore and the royal folks. UoM Academic Council approves PG lecturers as valuators

Mysuru, Aug.5 (RKB&NNN) -The Academic Council meeting chaired by Acting Vice-Chancellor Prof. Dayandand Mane approved that the lecturers in Post Graduate departments will also be eligible to become valuators.

This decision was taken at the AC meeting held here this morning at the Crawford Hall after much deliberation. The number of Postgraduate departments have gone up in University of Mysore, as even private institutions have opened PG Centres. As a consequence the load on the valuators had increased as their numbers was not equivalent to the number of students taking the exams.

According to the Choice Based Credit System (CBCS) and Continuous Assessment Grading Pattern (CAGP), it had become inevitable to identify the lecturers to evaluate the question papers. In fact in the undergraduate courses, those lecturers with more than three years experience are eligible to evaluate the papers and the same rule may be extended to the PG courses too. This decision was approved at the meeting.

Alumni association fee rejected

The University of Mysore Alumni Association (UMAA) had sought for the introduction of collecting a minimum sum of Rs. 300 from each student studying in the University of Mysore spread over three years, which would amount to each student paying Rs. 100 to become eligible as UMAA member. Similarly those studying in PG courses had to pay Rs. 300 in two years, which worked out to Rs. 150 per year. Even Research Scholars were also asked to contribute. A circular in this regard was issued by the University to all the colleges and the PG departments during the celebration of the Centenary year.

The idea was to augment the resources of the Alumni Association so that good academic activities could be carried out by the association. They would also become eligible for a lapel pin and other facilities. This move was shot down at the meeting today as it was found impractical.

Registrar D. Bharathi, Registrar (Evaluation) Prof. Somashekar, MLCs Appaji Gowda and Ramachandra Gowda, PMEB Director Prof. Lingaraj Gandhi and other Professors from various departments were present.

Burglars strike at 5 shops

The crime came to light when the shop owners opened the shutters this morning.

Burglars entered "She Creations" first and decamped with Rs. 2.5 lakh that was kept in the cash box. The shop, owned by Dinesh Kumar Jain, sells artificial and imitation jewellery. Next they entered Swastik Enterprises, owned by Rakesh that sells plastic items including decorative materials and stole Rs. 80,000.

The next target was Vasavamba Stores that sells groceries and took Rs. 10,000 that was kept in the counter cash box. The shop is owned by Murali Prakash. The burglars entered Baba Company, a glassware shop, and Navkar Novelties but had to return empty handed as cash was not kept inside.

Though all the shops were under CCTV surveillance, the owners had switched them off yesterday night before closing the shop, leaving no clues for the Police to arrest the accused.

Devaraja Inspector Thimmaraju, Lashkar Inspector H.M. Kantharaju, Devaraja Sub-division ACP B.S. Rajashekar, Deputy Commissioner of Police (crime and traffic) Dr. Vikram V. Amathe, Fingerprint ACP Rajashekar, Sub-inspectors Appaji Gowda and Lepaksha visited the spot.

MUDA approves final list

The Board gave its approval to the final list today, which will be displayed on the MUDA Notice Board this evening.

But now, the approval would be given only if the private layouts are developed in all parameters. The approval was given to four or five layouts in today's meeting.

Meanwhile, 10 to 15 residents of Keragalli and Dattagalli who had parted with their lands for R.T.Nagar, submitted a memorandum urging the authorities to allot a few sites to them in R.T. Nagar. The authorities assured them that a decision will be taken after the meeting was over in this regard.

There are nearly 47 subjects listed at the day-long meeting that include allotment of alternative sites to eight aspirants, 21 to 33 per cent bit of land confirmation letter, sanction of sites to the families of martyred soldiers Subedar Ramesh Kandappa Police Patil and Lt. Col. C.N.Nanjappa, land for ACB office in Survey Nos 42, 44 and 45 of Eeranagere (behind Jeelani Petrol Bunk), Residential complex and site for WAKF Board.

DC directs authorities to popularise Yeshasvini scheme

D. Randeep

Mysuru, Aug. 5 (SP&DM)- Deputy Commissioner (DC) D. Randeep has directed the authorities to popularise Yeshasvini Co-operative Health Scheme.

Chairing a District Co-ordination Committee Meeting on Yeshasvini Co-operative Health Scheme focusing on farmers at his office here recently, Randeep said that Karnataka has the highest number of registrations under the scheme in 2015-16. But the State has slipped to second position in 2016-17, by registering only 3.12 lakh members out of the targeted 3. 25 lakh members.

As such, the authorities must initiate action for sensitising the people on the benefits of the scheme, he said.

District Co-operative Union President H.V. Rajeev, in his address, alleged that several hospitals were neglecting Yeshasvini beneficiaries and this was not a good sign.

He demanded framing of a time-table for hospital visits to check whether Yeshasvini beneficiaries were getting due benefits at hospitals.

Yeshasvini scheme Co-facilitator Kumar said that there were complaints against two hospitals in the city over collecting excess charges for surgeries and the authorities concerned have been directed to look into the matter.

Zilla Panchayat Deputy Secretary Shivakumaraswamy, DHO Dr. Basavaraj, DCC Bank Managing Director M. Nagaraj, President Chandrashekar, District Surgeon Dr. M. Pashupathi, Dr. G. Umesh and other officials attended the meeting.

Selection of beneficiaries under CM's Employment Generation Scheme

Mysuru, Aug. 5 (RKB&DM)- Deputy Commissioner (DC) D. Randeep launched the interview for selecting beneficiaries for loan distribution under the Chief Minister's Employment Generation Scheme, at the District Industries Centre (DIC) on Sayyaji Rao Road here on Aug. 3.

Speaking on the occasion, the DC said that the scheme is meant for unemployed youths living in towns having a population of less than 20,000 according to the 2001 census.

Pointing out that DIC and the Khadi and Village Industries Board (KVIB) have been entrusted with the responsibility of selecting the beneficiaries, Randeep said that the DIC had received 450 applications for 60 beneficiaries, while the KVIB had received 250 online applications for 40 beneficiaries.

Stating that the applications received was much more in number when compared to the previous year, the DC said total transparency is being maintained in the selection of beneficiaries which will be done by a Task Force Committee headed by the DC, right from the receipt of applications to the preparation of final list of beneficiaries.

He further said that the beneficiaries will be given loans up to a maximum of Rs. 10 lakh each for self-employment and the General category candidates will get 25 percent subsidy, while the rest of the categories and communities can avail 35 percent subsidy.

DIC Joint Director H. Ramakrishnegowda, who is also the Member-Secretary of the Task Force Committee, Lead Bank Manager K.N. Shivalingaiah and officials from Departments concerned were present during the occasion.

Sanitary napkins sought for BPL card holders

Mysuru, Aug.5 (US&RKB)- Former ZP President Dr. Pushpa Amarnath has suggested distribution of sanitary napkins to women members of BPL families under the Public Distribution System (PDS).

Speaking at the general meeting of Zilla Panchayat held at ZP auditorium here recently, Dr. Pushpa Amarnath observed that about 70% girls in rural areas were ignorant of hygiene during menstrual period and providing sanitary pads through PDS would be very beneficial.

She suggested ZP to take a decision in that context and apprise the State and Central Governments.

Replying to that, ZP CEO P. Shivashankar said that over 1.2 lakh sanitary napkins were being given to various schools and hostels through Department of Women and Child Welfare.

Speaking on the occasion, Indumathi said that NSS officials and students should create awareness among people on environment and cleanliness.

She pointed out that most of the people are concerned with cleanliness of their places of residence but not at public places. She regretted that it was the reason for spread of vector-borne diseases. Hence, she suggested people to change their mindset.

A.N. Pujar, Regional Director, NSS, M. Rudraiah, Director, Students Welfare, UoM, Chikkakempegowda, Senior NSS Officer, Dr. B. Chandrashekar, Co-ordinator and others were present.

UoM to cut salaries of temporary lecturers to less than half

Mysuru, Aug. 5- It is a bolt from the blue for the 22 temporary lecturers appointed in the five new departments of the University of Mysore (UoM), as the University has taken a decision to cut their salaries to less than half.

The decision was taken at the Syndicate Meeting held on Aug. 3 to reduce the salaries from Rs. 50,000 to Rs. 22,500. According to a Syndicate Member, the decision was based on the proposal of the Government — uniform pay for uniform work.

The decision to appoint 22 lecturers to the five new departments — Molecular Biology, Organic Chemistry, Statistics, Public Administration, Statistics and University of School of Law — paying salary of Rs. 50,000 was taken during former Vice-Chancellor Prof. K.S. Rangappa's tenure.

He had justified the salary saying that it was necessary to pay good salaries to the faculty if high standards of the University had to be maintained. He had also said that some of the best academic achievers in the world were willing to come and teach in University of Mysore, if the emoluments matched their achievements.

However, the Syndicate decided to go by the rules of government, which also has said 'no work, no pay.' As a result, the temporary lecturers will be relieved of their post after 11 months and fresh letters of appointment given and even their salaries will be cut to match the UGC guidelines, which cannot be more than Rs. 25,000, said the Syndicate Member, speaking to Star of Mysore on condition of anonymity.

Will the lecturers who are now drawing a handsome salary keep quiet or will they fight for their cause is something we have to wait and watch, said a faculty from one of the departments.

Outreach courses

The University had also started its own Outreach courses. However, even this has come to a grinding halt as it is forced to comply with the UGC order that such courses should not be conducted outside its jurisdiction.

SDNR Wadiyar Stadium: Notice to KSCA

The University had entered into an agreement with Karnataka State Cricket Association (KSCA) to develop and maintain the Gangothri Glades Cricket Stadium (later named SDNR Wadiyar Stadium) in Manasagangothri Campus.

According to the agreement, the KSCA had to pay Rs. 1 lakh for every match played. But it had not paid a single rupee till now. Hence, it was decided to issue a notice to KSCA in this regard.

Prof. K.S. Rangappa had argued recently at a press conference about this discriminatory attitude of the UGC when he had asked, "If a person can contest elections from any part of the country, then why not the same yardstick be allowed for as important a field as education. How can jurisdictional boundaries be imposed on Universities imparting distance education? When Indira Gandhi National Open University has spread its tentacles all over the country, why should Universities like Mysore and KSOU have restrictions?"

KSOU staff eviction

Another matter raised at the Syndicate meeting was regarding the occupation of some of the quarters in the University by employees of Karnataka State Open University (KSOU). The decision was taken to vacate such employees, as there was demand for quarters from the staff of the University of Mysore itself. There are also many temporary lecturers of the University who have been occupying the quarters though they are not eligible, said a Syndicate Member,.

Kukkarahalli Lake Fish Stall

The fish stall in Kukkarahalli Lake had been leased to the Fisheries Department for Rs. 6 lakh. There was an audit objection, as the matter was not brought before the Syndicate for approval and even a tender was not called for before leasing it out. The stall in turn had been sub-leased, said sources.

I-T raid on D.K. Shivakumar ends; Minister heads to temple

The Income-Tax Department officials completed their raids at Energy Minister D.K. Shivakumar's house in Bengaluru. The Minister spoke to reporters and left for a Temple at an undisclosed location.

Mysuru, Aug. 5 (OSR)- The marathon Income Tax raids on the houses of Karnataka Energy Minister D.K. Shivakumar ended this morning and the tax officials left "Kankeri", Shivakumar's palatial residence at Sadashivanagar in Bengaluru along with the Central Reserve Police Force (CRPF) personnel. After the raid, Shivakumar and his family members proceeded to a temple in two vehicles.

The raid began on Wednesday (Aug. 2) simultaneously at more than 60 locations at places including New Delhi, Bengaluru and Mysuru with over 120 officials.

The raids triggered a political backlash with the Congress party accusing the BJP led-Centre of targeting political opponents by misusing official investigating agencies.

Income Tax officials were spotted leaving the Minister's house at around 10 am today and as soon as they left, Shivakumar came out of the house for the first time after Wednesday to speak to the media.

Mentioning that he had done no wrong, Shivakumar said that his assets were acquired through legal means.

"Nobody can hide truth. I will speak in detail only after obtaining Panchanama documents," he said.

"I never worked against the spirit of the law and Constitution... I am not embarrassing my party. At no point of time I will let down my leaders," he said. The Minister, who declined to give any details on the IT raids, said: "I will not give any picture now."

"I will speak to you later in details ...after obtaining Panchanama documents. I will reply to all of you, you waited in front of my house day and night. Now I am going to a temple. But I am not telling you which temple I am going," Shivakumar said.

After four days of I-T raids on his residence and office, Shivakumar said: "I am not in a position to speak now. I am thanking all of you, Legislators, party workers who stood with me."

He would also go to Eagleton Resorts where Gujarat Legislators have been staying for the last eight days and meet them, Shivakumar said. "I came from the village to Bengaluru to do politics," he said adding that he would abide law.

Don't defend DKS much, Cong top brass tells State leaders

New Delhi, Aug. 5- The Congress top leadership has cautioned the State unit to be more guarded in defending Energy Minister D.K. Shivakumar to avoid a perception that the party was shielding the corrupt.

The party should only criticise the timing of the raids and use of central force rather than defending under-scanner leaders per se, is the message to Karnataka leaders, said Congress sources.

"Since Congress Vice-President Rahul Gandhi has taken a tough stand of zero-tolerance towards corruption in public life, we should be very careful in defending any leader who comes on the radar of investigating agencies. Though the party is against the timing of the raid and its motive, we can't blindly say that the I-T Department should not raid anybody or probe anybody's wealth," a senior Congress leader said.

"If we oppose the I-T probe, the BJP may argue that we are obstructing the functioning of the investigation agency. Since we have already declared that the party is against black money, we cannot question the I-T Department probing any of our leaders," said the leader.

I-T officials grill Shivakumar till 2 am

Bengaluru, Aug. 5 - Armed with hundreds of documents on financial dealings found in possession of Energy Minister D.K. Shivakumar and his associates over the last three days, Income Tax officials are learnt to have confronted the Minister seeking explanation over his assets and investments in several businesses in India and abroad.

A new team of senior IT sleuths took over from multiple teams conducting search and seizure operations at the minister's Sadashivanagar residence yesterday evening and continued questioning.

Documents recovered from various locations, cash and financial transactions were tallied and Shivakumar was asked for explanation.

Not just those recovered at his residences in Sadashivanagar and Safdarjaung Road, Delhi, but other documents that the IT sleuths recovered from 64 locations have been brought to his Sadashivanagar residence. The Minister's statement was recorded.

"He is under pressure. He didn't sleep for the last two days," said the Minister's brother D.K. Suresh, Member of Parliament from Bengaluru Rural. Suresh said the taxmen have questioned the minister "till 1.30, 2 am," every day and that Shivakumar had to consult a doctor who has advised him rest.

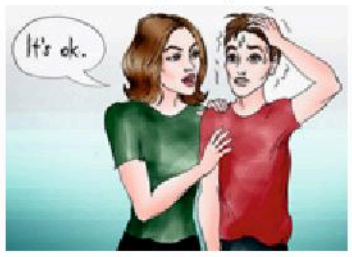
WORD OF THE DAY

Mollify



Pronunciation: mol-uh-fahy
Meaning: To soften in feeling or temper, as a person; pacify; appease; to mitigate or reduce.
Origin: Mollify came to English at the time when Middle English was spoken. It finds its roots in the Latin mollificāre meaning "to make soft."
Example: Linda was angry with me. I had to mollify her, try to mollify Yngve, and keep the channels open.

THE ODD WORD

Quoad

With respect to; as regards.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

To cast the first stone

Meaning: Be the first to attack a sinner. The implication in Jesus' teaching was that the members of the congregation were only in a position to condemn a sinner if they were without sin themselves — in other words, 'judge not lest you be judged.'
Origin: This phrase derives from the Bible— John 8:7. The earliest biblical example of it in print in English comes in Miles Coverdale's Bible, 1535: Now whyle they contynuedaxynge him, he lift him selfvp, and saydevnto them: He that is amonge you without synne, let him cast the first stone at her.
